

NEWBURYPORT
PRESERVATION TRUST

Newburyport, Massachusetts USA

Linking the past with the present and future

A Gallery of Public Architecture

from Early 20th-Century Postcard Views

Compiled by R.W. Bacon for the Newburyport Preservation Trust (2012)

Old South Church (1756)
29 Federal Street

Newburyport YMCA (1891; razed 1991 after 1987 fire) 96 State Street

Tracy Mansion (1771), 94 State St. Built by Patrick Tracy (1711-1789) for his son, Nathaniel Tracy (1751-1796). Conveyed to the city for its library in 1866.

Custom House (1835), 25 Water Street.
Now Custom House Maritime Museum.

Kelley School (1872), High Street. Closed in 2007 after 135 years as a public school. Now the home of the Newburyport Youth Center.

Firehouse (1823), Market Sq. Originally a market building, it was the central firehouse 1864-1980. Theatre & restaurant since 1990.

Newburyport City Hall (1851), 60 Pleasant Street. The two-story flat-roofed section extending west was added in 1881.

St. Paul's Church (1801, burned in 1920), 166 High Street. The stone church now on the site was completed in 1923.

Brown Square, Pleasant, Green, Titcomb Sts. (1802). Central Cong. Church (1861), Brown Sq. Hotel (1809), W.L. Garrison statue (1893).

Putnam Free School (1848), High & Green Sts. Served as Newburyport's high school until 1937. Destroyed by fire in 1945.

Essex County Superior Courthouse (1805), 145 High Street at Bartlett Mall. Improvements to this area, originally a watering hole for cattle, began in 1744.

"The Old Gaol" (1824), 10 Auburn St. The county jail until 1918, it was sold to private owners in 1923. (LOC Photo)

Boston & Maine Railroad Station (1893), Winter St. The depot built in 1854 was destroyed by fire in 1892. This depot burned in 1968.

Newburyport Preservation Trust

P. O. Box 184 • Newburyport, Massachusetts 01950 USA • www.nbptpreservationtrust.org